DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment and Arguments

1. Applicant's amendment filed on November 8, 2004 has been entered and made of record.
2. Applicant's arguments, see pages 7-8, filed November 8, 2004, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-20 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of 35 U.S.C. 112 first paragraph. The details of the rejection are provided below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Referring to claim 1, the phrase, "segmenting the difference image into a plurality of regions utilizing a grouping principle for preattentive perception, wherein the difference image is segmented into a plurality of regions such that each of the regions are bounded by one or more lines passing through the entire image” in lines 5-9 is not sufficiently described in the applicant’s specification. The closest instance to this feature appears to be on page 10, lines 17-19, where it states, “The segmentation approach used in the illustrative embodiment of the present invention makes us of a grouping principle for pre-attentive perception.” However, it appears that the “segmentation approach” is referring to the determination of the change map $C(x,y)$ and the extraction of the motion silhouettes (page 10, lines 3-16). The “region segmentation” (the segmentation process that segments the image into a plurality of regions such that each of the regions are bounded by one or more lines passing through the entire image) is described on page 11, line 5 to page 12, line 11. It appears that the region segmentation is performed by analyzing a horizontal projection profile and determining the region boundary saliency $RS(X)$, wherein the maxima of $|RS(X)|$ are candidates for region boundaries--the one or more lines passing through the entire image. The Examiner was unable to find an instance in the applicant’s specification that indicates that the region segmentation is performed using the “grouping principle for preattentive perception,” as claimed. Similar rejections are applicable to claims 9 and 20.

Claims not mentioned specifically are dependent from the antecedent claims described above.

4. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Art Unit: 2623

Referring to claim 1, the phrase, "segmenting the difference image into a plurality of regions utilizing a grouping principle for preattentive perception, wherein the difference image is segmented into a plurality of regions such that each of the regions are bounded by one or more lines passing through the entire image" in lines 5-9 is not supported by the applicant's specification. More specifically, the applicant's specification is non-enabling in regards to how the region segmentation process is performed utilizing a grouping principle for preattentive perception. As noted above, the "region segmentation" is performed by analyzing a horizontal projection profile, wherein the one or more lines passing through the entire image are determined based on region boundary saliency values. Therefore, it is unclear how the grouping principle for preattentive perception is used to perform the region segmentation process. Similar rejections are applicable to claims 9 and 20.

Claims not mentioned specifically are dependent from non-enabled antecedent claims.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 2623

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
